Osler Medical Implements Anodyne Health

Atlanta, GA. – June 29, 2009 – Anodyne Health, a leading provider of revenue cycle management solutions for the healthcare industry, announced that its business intelligence (BI) solutions were implemented at Osler Medical, a premier multi-specialty medical group. Osler Medical was looking for a solution that would assist them in managing their practice more effectively.

Osler Medical employs 62 dedicated physicians that provide patient-centered, quality healthcare to their community from eight different locations throughout Melbourne, Florida. Some of their services include: cardiology, dermatology, gynecology, neurology, orthopedics, pain management, and pediatrics.

Brenda Merchberger, Chief Administrative Officer of Osler Medical said, "With the need for business analysis growing, and the available time being compromised by competing pressures, Osler Medical was in need of an analytics solution that would put information at the fingertips of our management team. The solution would need to be very easy-to-use, present data in a way that was relevant and insightful, and be managed/delivered in a fashion that wouldn't tax our existing resources, already focused on other initiatives. Anodyne's BI solution, delivered via a Software-as-a-Service model, where Anodyne manages everything, meets our requirements and gives us confidence that we can take our analytical capabilities to a new level."

"Anodyne Analytics™ will allow Osler Medical to obtain quick and accurate data without relying on technical resources to do the data extractions. This will not only make them more productive and drastically reduce interdependencies within their organization, but by putting this kind of information into the hands of their management team, we will afford them the opportunity to drive continuous improvement into their practice," stated Michael Funk, Chief Executive Officer of Anodyne Health.
