Stanford Hospital and Clinics Partners with Anodyne Health

Atlanta, GA. – September 28, 2009 – Anodyne Health, a leading provider of revenue cycle management solutions for the healthcare industry, has recently partnered with Stanford Hospital and Clinics, located in Palo Alto, California. By utilizing Anodyne's business intelligence (BI) solutions, Stanford Hospital and Clinics will gain unparalleled visibility into all areas of their revenue cycle helping them to drive improved business results.

Stanford Hospital and Clinics is a prominent medical institution that provides advanced patient care to its surrounding communities. For many years, Stanford Hospital and Clinics has been responsible for several medical breakthroughs that have saved patients' lives and protected them against disease. Recognized as one of "America's Best Hospitals," Stanford Hospital and Clinics close association with the Stanford University School of Medicine and Lucile Packard Children's Hospital assures that patients will receive the highest quality of care available.

"The Business users at Stanford Hospital and Clinics needed a tool that would enable them to access professional revenue cycle data quickly and easily, without the need for an IT or Decision Support intermediary," stated Jill Buathier, Vice President of Revenue Operations at Stanford Hospital and Clinics. "We are confident that the user-friendly and intuitive nature of Anodyne Analytics™ will allow us to identify trends and patterns early and continuously improve our processes in order to optimize financial performance."

Anodyne's ad-hoc analytics solution allows business users to interact directly with their data, through a "self-service" model, minimizing the need for support from IT personnel or analysts. With extremely fast response-times, business professionals are able to access desired information within seconds. "By utilizing Anodyne Analytics™, Stanford Hospital and Clinics will be able to more quickly identify revenue cycle opportunities across their organization. This will help drive increased revenue, as well as a far greater command over the myriad drivers that impact financial performance," commented Michael Funk, Chief Executive Officer of Anodyne Health. "We are very excited about beginning a business relationship with such a prestigious physician organization."
